...from Sarah & Ann. Marcus Field's last journey 19th June 1.45pm - Broad Street, Presteigne. For people local to our area, Marcus's funeral will be on Friday 19th June at Presteigne Cemetery. Unfortunately because of the pandemic numbers at the graveside are limited. If you want to help Scarlett, Osian and Jemima with his last journey please be standing along Broad Street at 1.45pm. The more Presteigne Colts strips the better! Clapping would be good too - let's make it fun. Please share this post and generally spread the word. I've put a link to the charity for research into the type of cancer Marcus suffered from below. We don't need flowers, but if you'd like to donate please feel free. Finally, thank you for your help and support during the Covid19 emergency and for working with myself and my volunteers, in providing a "lockdown" version of Food Bank! We hope to revert to our usual opening arrangements at the end of this month and will be asking everyone who comes into the food bank to wear a mask and to use the hand sanitizer provided. That way we will keep us all safe and well. With grateful thanks, Best wishes to you, Helen

OTHER INFORMATION

...from Little Peoples Playgroup. Please get ready to complete your form if you wish to return to LPPG on 29th June. We are currently working with all concerned to offer 30 hour funded sessions for all who need them. Any questions, please message us on our Facebook page. thanks Parents who were accessing the additional childcare hours as part of the Childcare Offer for Wales prior to the 31st of March will shortly be receiving an email from the team in Ceredigion. You will be asked to confirm whether you wish to continue receiving the offer and if so, details about how you wish to proceed with the funded childcare hours in case of any amendments. No funding will be in place if a completed form is not returned. Please keep an eye on your emails OVER THE NEXT WEEK. We would like to reassure you that you do not need to contact Ceredigion until you receive the email. Thank you for your patience.

...from Presteigne Freegle. What to do with an old filing cabinet now you've recycled all your old paperwork? See our Facebook for some fun ideas! They make great planters and can be jazzed up for other storage purposes around the house. If you can't be bothered upcycling old stuff then be sure to give away unwanted things so someone else can reuse or repurpose it. Go here to do that: <https://www.ilovefreegle.org>. Freegle is free to join, free to use and everything listed is free to collect....give it a go, you'll be surprised what can find a new home and how easy it is to avoid the bin and the tip!

...from Recycle Now. Glass is a great recyclable material. If you're in Herefordshire, put the lids back on your bottles and jars before recycling, it means they'll also get sorted and collected without being lost in the recycling process. If you're in Powys, put the plastic or metal tops separately in your red recycling box.

...from Powys Library Service. Latest news: Order-and-collect library books service launches across Powys. Powys Library Service is trialling a new order-and-collect service to enable people to get fresh reading materials safely during the coronavirus pandemic. From 22 June, residents will be able to ask for a new collection of books via the Powys County Council website (<https://crowd.in/Q88Q1Y>), or by contacting the library service on 01597 827460 or library@powys.gov.uk. Library staff will then put together selections based on the reading interests given, and these will be ready for collection from 29th June. The normal "request" facility for specific titles on the library catalogue will not be available, to eliminate the need to transport requested books all around Powys, thereby reducing the risk of spreading the virus. The six sites which will be used for preparing collections of books will be Machynlleth, Llanfyllin, Newtown, Llandrindod, Brecon and Ystradgynlais. Readers who live sufficiently close to those sites will be able to collect a bag of books from the library door by appointment only, following social distancing and hygiene measures.

For all other readers, the library service will be working closely with local members, PAVO, partners and local volunteer groups to try and ensure that books are delivered safely to the doorstep, with strict hygiene procedures and social distancing measures also in place, similar to grocery or prescription deliveries. (Ed. WATCH THIS SPACE FOR PRESTEIGNE).

Anyone who wishes to volunteer to help to deliver library books to your local area is urged to register as a volunteer with PAVO <https://crowd.in/qxlHqs>. Community response support groups that would like to help to deliver this service across Powys are urged to contact the library service on library@powys.gov.uk or 01597 827460 to discuss further.

...from the Welsh Government. If you have coronavirus symptoms but can't get to a test centre, you can book a test through the post. It will be sent to your house in the post and picked up by a courier once you've completed it. <https://gov.wales/apply-coronavirus-test>.

...from Shropshire CC. Clun Bridge, which carries the A488 over the River Clun, will be closed from Thursday 18 June 2020 to Friday 3 July 2020 to enable the repairs to be undertaken to the parapet and cutwater to the upstream left side of the bridge. Works will also include general repointing to the inside faces of the parapets and repairs to the kerb build-out at the bridge. Due to the nature of the repair works, a full road closure and signed diversion route will be in place for the duration of the works. When the bridge is closed a signed diversion will be in place, diverting traffic via the B4368, B4385, A4113 and A488.
